The Challenge

In court most days, Scott Horvat juggled using his iPhone, iPad and laptop.

"I have a very paper-heavy practice," said Scott. "I've used AbacusLaw for years to help keep me organized and to go paperless, and it's worked very well. But as my practice has grown, I'm now in court almost daily and needed the ability to pull up information on any device, at anytime."

Scott recognized the value in the Private Cloud, but struggled to find the right solution.

"I tried other Private Cloud Solutions from various vendors, but they didn't offer the flexibility I needed. And to customize them to my needs was cost prohibitive for my solo practice."

The Solution

The Abacus Private Cloud™ Total Care Team provided a seamless migration and had Scott up and running quickly and easily.

"I'm now able to access my entire office from my iPad in court," continued Scott. "Not only can I pull up data within AbacusLaw, but all of my other applications, including Adobe Acrobat, are right at my fingertips. In addition, everything is right where I need it. If I have a document open on my desktop at the office, and open it on my iPad when I get home, it's in exactly the same place that I left it, cursor and all. Abacus Private Cloud™ greatly improved my efficiency by allowing me to work seamlessly on all devices."

Results

With Abacus Private Cloud™, the Law Office of Scott L. Horvat has gained the ability to access all data, applications and email from anywhere, at anytime, increasing both efficiency and productivity. With less time focused on back-office tasks, Scott can concentrate on providing best possible outcomes for his clients.
